Dear Parents/Carers,

Please find attached the login details for your child to access letter join (our handwriting scheme) at home.

As shared on the newsletter this week, we would like to encourage all our children to practise their handwriting at home as well as in school.

When they log in, they can select their class and then there are a variety of different activities for them to complete or they can just practise the formation of the letter joins.

There is a significant improvement in the standards of presentation in school since we have been using this handwriting scheme so it is vital that our children continue to practise in order to further embed and develop their style using the correct joins.

We have also attached a home guide for parents with regards to logging into the site at home.

Thank you for your support.

Kind regards

Mrs McAleny
